

The following sentences contain heavy corporate jargon. Rewrite them in clear, precise technical English suitable for reports, proposals, or documentation.

- a) We need to leverage our core competencies to achieve scalable outcomes in the upcoming quarter.
- b) The project was put on the back burner due to bandwidth issues across cross-functional teams.
- c) Our organization aims to pivot towards a customer-centric model to enhance stakeholder value.
- d) The committee decided to drill down into the granular details before finalizing the roadmap.
- e) The new system will act as a game changer, disrupting industry benchmarks across verticals.

Replace the underlined jargon with exact technical alternatives without altering the meaning.

- a) The manager advised the engineers to circle back after the initial prototype was tested.
- b) The team must ensure that the data pipeline remains future-proof during integration.
- c) The consultant emphasized the need to synergize efforts across departments.
- d) The proposed software aims to move the needle in performance evaluation.
- e) The CEO encouraged employees to think outside the box in designing sustainable solutions.

Each pair of words or phrases below contains a jargon-heavy option and a plain, precise alternative. Choose the clearer option and justify your choice in one sentence.

- a) actionable insights / statistical findings
- b) paradigm shift / methodological change
- c) scalable ecosystem / modular system
- d) low-hanging fruit / easily achievable objective
- e) strategic alignment / compliance with protocol